Hospitals given a clean bill of health

Staff praised after surprise inspection

By NEIL DOCKING

Inspectors have given East Lancashire's hospitals a clean bill of health following an unannounced visit.

The Care Quality Commission's inspectors made spot-checks when they visited at the end of January. No breaches of any regulations were found.

East Lancashire Hospitals NHS Trust said the findings were the result of its improved performance in the control and prevention of infection.

The nine areas of inspection covered the infection control procedures, including cleaning, handwashing and use of antibacterial gels, and policies on the use of antibiotics.

The assessors scrutinised staff uniforms, decontamination processes for instruments and equipment and isolation facilities, and checked that information was available to patients and visitors.

They spoke to staff and patients about their views on infection control in the trust.

Lynn Wissett, deputy chief executive at the trust, said: "The pride and commitment of our staff shone through during the inspection."

No patients in any of the trust's four hospitals have developed MRSA in more than six weeks, while a spokesman said the numbers of patients developing clostridium difficile, a more common infection, remain 'well below' the Government's maximum thresholds.

Teamwork: Success from grassroots

HIGH VOLTAGE: Nelson and Colne College students celebrate picking up the top award, most outstanding social enterprise at Lancaster University's Voltage Project. The team designed and managed its own social enterprise business called grassroots promoting healthy living among children.

'Angels' soar through NW choir final

Singing 'angels' from Pendle are in the frame to win the prestigious BBC Choir of the Year contest after claiming victory in a regional heat.

Arden Youth Choir, known locally as Arden Angels, won the North West heat of the contest at the Manchester Royal Northern College of Music.

The girls' ensemble beat off competition from groups including Ysgol Glanaethwy, a finalist in the BBC's Last Choir Standing contest.

The victory has put them in the running for the Youth Choir category final and taken them a step closer to the televised grand final.

TOP NOTES: The Arden Youth Choir

Judges at the regional heat described the Pendle choir as 'sensational' and gave the girls credit for 'attention to detail and musical crafting.'

Choral director Susan Eames said: "I am so proud of what this choir has achieved. It's remarkable. I'm thrilled to bits and so are the girls. I feel this result really demonstrates we are ready to compete at national level now."

They will sing at the Unitarian Church, Padiham, on March 6.

Girls in battle to be Miss Cinderella UK

STRIKING A POSE: Lucie-Jaye, Burnley's ambassador for 2010

YOU BEAUTIES: At the Burnley heat of the UK Cinderella beauty pageant at The Mix nightclub are, from the left, Lucie-Jaye Whitehead, 12, from Burnley; Karishma Chauhan, 13, and Kajol Chauhan, 12, both from Preston; Christine Rendina, 15, from Ludlow; Sasha Bennington, 13, from Burnley; Chloe Wealleans-Watts, nine, from Cramlington; and Jenna Wakefield, 12, from Bury.

By TYRONE MARSHALL

A dozen girls from East Lancashire battled in the first round of a competition to be crowned Miss Cinderella UK.

Girls from as young as three up to teenagers took part in the Burnley round of the national competition at The Mix nightclub, in St James Row.

The local round was hosted by current Miss Cinderella UK Sasha Bennington, 13, from Burnley, and her mum, former glamour model Jayne Harris. Sasha won the national title in London last year and went on to represent the UK at the international final in Dallas, USA, and the same could await this year's local winner.

Jayne, 33, said: "Sasha was the first English girl to go to the international final last year."

Sasha has already starred in a BBC and ITV documentary about her quest for stardom, as well as appearing on shows such as Richard and Judy.

In March she is entering the popular Miss Teen Galaxy.

Trying to shut the door on burglars

By TYRONE MARSHALL

A project to cut the number of burglaries in one of Burnley's most deprived areas has taken to the streets.

Dozens of homes in parts of Bank Hall could benefit from extra locks as the result of an initative launched by Burnley Community Safety Partnership.

Crime prevention officers and Lancashire firefighters have been enlisted for the initiative and have been delivering information packs to homes.

If householders, after completing a questionnaire, qualify for additional security devices they will be fitted free, under the Safer Neighbourhood Project.

Richard Aslin, from the Lower Bank Hall Community Group, said: "This is a brilliant idea. All the advice given by the volunteers was very constructive, some of their suggestions I knew needed addressing but it has now spurred me on to do something about it.

"The check only takes around 10 minutes and I would advise everyone who is approached to say yes.

"The advice you will receive could quite easily stop you from being burgled and after all you can't get better than a security check and locks for free.

The scheme is to be extended to homes in nearby Trinity ward.

Chief Supt Tattum, crime and disorder partnership chairman, said: "This project will see people from all the agencies working together to tackle burglary.

"Working in partnership we have already made a positive impact on burglary during this last year and have seen 65 fewer people suffer the devastation of having their house burgled and 313 fewer victims of

'Eyesore' theatre set to be be razed

HISTORIC: The Palace will be demolished after the go-ahead

An 'eyesore' former bingo hall is to be razed despite an eleventh hour bid to prevent its demolition.

John Denham, Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government, rubber stamped Pende Borough Council's proposals to knock down the former Palace Theatre, in Leeds Road, Nelson, after the plans had been opposed by a number of theatre heritage groups.

The Association of Historic Theatres in Europe had said that pulling down the building would be 'an act of barbarism'.

Its appeal against the proposed demolition had left the future of the rundown building in the balance for a number of months.

Councillors welcomed the decision to knock down the building, which they said will pave the way for the creation of 'much-needed' parking spaces.

The Government granted permission to demolish the site last year but the theatre association's appeal stalled plans. Carsten Jung, the association's secretary-general, said the theatre was inaugurated 100 years ago and should be preserved.

But Coun Allan Buck said: "I agree that it is sad to see a historic theatre go but it had long since lost any use as a theatre."

Seaside buses are scrapped

By TOM MOSELEY

Two popular summer seaside bus services have been scrapped after 15 years because of a funding cut.

The daily coaches, which were almost full on sunny days, went to Blackpool and Fleetwood from East Lancashire and were set to begin next month in time for Easter.

Passengers now face a three-hour trip, one hour longer than the old service, changing at Preston using local buses.

The services were the X4, from Barnoldswick, Colne, Nelson, Burnley Padiham and Whalley and the X64, from Oswaldtwistle and Accrington.

But they are no longer covered by the government's free bus pass scheme for pensioners. Last year Hyndburn Council stepped in and funded the X64, while the X4 ran a reduced service.

Lancashire United marketing director, Nigel Eggleton, said the decision made by the bus company was 'a great shame'.

He said: "The two routes were quite popular. They gave people a convenient day out at the seaside without a car. However last year, without the reimbursement from the concessionary fares scheme, the number of passengers travelling dropped and the routes no longer cover even their basic costs.

"It's a great shame and we've delayed ending the service as long as possible in the hope that a solution could be found."

Hyndburn Council leader Peter Britcliffe said the bus firm was 'not prepared to renew the scheme with them'. He said: "We will be looking into alternatives to keep a service for older people, and I urge anyone who has a bus or coach firm willing to do these journeys to get in touch with me."

In this puzzle, a famous or popular quotation fills the grid. The individual letters remain in their correct column, but have fallen out and are out of order. Reinsert them in the correct order to find the answer. Punctuation is given in its own square. This quotation is from author and playwright Samuel Beckett.

£40,000 is set aside to help flood scheme

A flood defence scheme in Barnoldswick has been welcomed by councillors after the signing of a legal agreement.

Developers of land off Ravenscroft Way have agreed to contribute towards the cost of vital improvements to drainage in the area.

Borough councillors Margaret Bell and David Whipp say the agreement is good news for residents at risk of flooding.

"In the past, this low-lying land has been like a lake during bad weather," said Coun Bell.

"We've been working towards getting the drainage improved for some time.

"This agreement is a key part of the project.

"We made the funding a requirement when the developers got planning permission."

Under the agreement, £40,000 is being paid to Pendle Council towards the cost of improving the underground section of Crow Nest Syke.

Coun Whipp said: "The culverted section of the Syke is a bottleneck that's caused flooding.

"Houses on Edward Street have been affected when it has blocked in the past."

Pendle Council's West Craven Committee has agreed to contribute £10,000.

And Lancashire County Council will also contribute.

Winner dishes out the stars

Former film director Michael Winner honed his palate reviewing food at the most classy of establishments. The 74-year-old turns his attentions to home cooking in Michael Winner's Dining Stars, which begins on ITV1 on February 26. Michael visits people's homes and judges their cooking and hosting skills. He then gives them a rating of one, two, or three stars.

60 SECONDS WITH ...MICHAEL WINNER

ARE YOU EXPECTING RESTAURANT-QUALITY FOOD FROM THE HOPEFULS?
To me the words 'restaurant-quality food' have no meaning, because you can go into 20 restaurants and they're all quite different. The best meal I ever had in my life was at a Women's Institute fete in Wales. Everything they did was incredible, it was all done with love, it was all done with care. It was great food.

WHAT DOES IT TAKE TO IMPRESS YOU?
I just like good food. If there was a general thing they all did wrong it was that these people have cooked regular meals for their families for years, and they're very good at it. They've honed their skills. The minute I turn up, they throw all that out the window, and they start to do something posh or grand, and they try things they're really not capable of.

WOULD YOU SAY YOU ARE A FOOD SNOB?
Definitely not. I don't like all this plate decoration, I don't like all this pomp and circumstance. In the 1950s what you saw was what you got. The meat looked like meat and the veg looked like veg. Today, it's all so ponced about, you don't know what half of it is.

One-day blues blast

The line-up for Burnley Blues Day in April has been announced, with some of the leading names in British blues taking to the stage.

For the first time, the day-long event replaces the traditional festival, which was hit by a lack of sponsorship.

A full day of performances will be held at Burnley Mechanics on two stages on Saturday, April 3.

Headlining on the main stage will be the Mike Sanchez Band featuring a number of special guests, including Big Boy Bloater, Andy Silvester and Claire Johnson.

Also on the bill will be the James Hunter Band and The Stumble.

Acts featuring on the festival stage include the Blues Devils and Chantel McGregor.

Although this year the main festival stage will be for one day only, fringe venues through the town will be offering live music across the Easter weekend. Main stage tickets are priced £15.

For more details, contact the box offiice on 01282 664400.

HEADLINER: The Mike Sanchez Band and, far left, Chantel McGregor

Exclusive holiday homes at the Gateway to the Lakes

The stunning new £3 million leisure complex at Fell End

IF YOU'VE ever dreamed of owning a second home - a secret bolt hole where you can escape the stresses of modern life or take the family for a long, lazy weekend – there will be something for every budget during a special open week at South Lakeland Leisure Village.

Open Week Feb 27 - March 7
A lakeside lodge development close to the Lakes & Dales with restaurant & leisure complex. 11 month season
Holiday Lodges from £65,000 South Lakeland Leisure Village

The stunning lakeside location, at the gateway to the Lake District, is opening up to the public from February 27 - March 7 to unveil the exclusive new Country Homes and a range of eco-lodges.

The Pure Leisure Group event will also be an opportunity to purchase a caravan holiday home at its award-winning nearby caravan parks, Fell End and Hall More, which sit in the Arnside and Silverdale Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

All three sites are owned by Preston-born businessman John Morphet, who is behind a portfolio of holiday parks and luxury property developments.

At the Leisure Village he has not only created one of the North's biggest, most exclusive lodge developments, but given families and couples the chance to buy homes they never dreamed they could afford – whether they choose to use their second homes exclusively for themselves or to maximise their investment potential by renting out to holidaymakers, with many owners managing a staggering return of seven per cent over five years.

"I always look forward to the open week as it's a chance for people to meet the team and see what's available – whether their budget's £15,000 or £195,000," says John. "It's an especially good opportunity for caravan owners who hope to upgrade to a lodge, which in the long run can work out much better value."

Highlight of the open event will be the unveiling of the Country Homes - the very latest generation holiday home and most luxurious to-date. Just six of the spacious, three-bedroom semi-detached properties will be available to buy at the Village. Based on the upside-down houses on John's exclusive Royal Westmoreland estate in Barbados they offer a rare opportunity to own a beautifully-furnished home in a sought-after location, for just £185,000.

Open Week Feb 27 - March 7
Award winning country park in the Arnside & Silverdale area of the Southern Lake District with new restaurant & leisure complex
Holiday Caravans from £19,995 Fell End Caravan Park

"You've got the sea 1.5 miles away and the Lakes, Dales, Kirkby Lonsdale and Lancaster within a 20 minute drive. It's hard to think of a better location," he adds.

And he's right: The Leisure Village is immaculate, friendly and secure and boasts a leisure complex with a superb restaurant, bar, pool, gym and beauty therapy suites. All property owners have access to the facilities and those who buy a lodge during the promotion will not only be able to boast otters and bitterns as their new neighbours (both reside by the lake) but they'll get four years' membership at Silverdale Golf Club thrown in.

For those with a budget of £65,000-£165,000 there will also be opportunities to buy an eco-friendly lodge in the site's 'village within a village'.

Open Week Feb 27 - March 7
A select country retreat in the Arnside & Silverdale area close to the Southern Lake District including use of facilities at nearby Fell End
Holiday Caravans from £23,995 Hall More Caravan Park

Available with a host of green credentials to cut energy bills, these are being bought by discerning individuals who want the extra security of a gated community, where their neighbours have chosen never to sublet their properties.

The PLG team will also be promoting starter holiday homes at Hall More and Fell End, where a £3million leisure complex was recently unveiled.

Chris Royle, a retired solicitor from Warrington who has owned holiday homes on Hall More since 1974, said: "It's a lovely feeling to wake up on a nice day and just decide there and then that you're going to spend a few days away. We don't need to pack - or plan. We don't even need to tell anyone!"

A family soaks up some lake-side sunshine

Attractive Rewards & Benefits — Based Clitheroe, Lancashire

Johnson Matthey Process Technologies is part of the prestigious Johnson Matthey Group: a FTSE100, £2bn global business, delivering leading edge products and processes, with a focus on clean energy, low carbon technologies and technical excellence. Continued success and investment means we are now looking to add fresh talent to our team in Clitheroe:

Manufacturing Technical Manager — c£36k

In this key role, you'll be working alongside manufacturing, technical and commercial colleagues to enhance process design and controls, along with capital identification and commissioning. We're seeking a highly experienced and qualified Chemical Engineer, able to meet the highest manufacturing standards.

Mechanical Engineer — £35-40k

Directly responsible for your maintenance team, your brief will be to set and enforce mechanical engineering standards across the site, utilising existing and emerging engineering technologies in support of our process development activities, whilst maximsing reliability of both new and ageing equipment. A mechanical engineer of Chartered and graduate calibre, you will bring authority, presence and a good working knowledge of relevant systems (such as MP2/SAP) into what is a key role for the business.

Mechanical Engineer — c£25-30k

We are also recruiting a second engineer to join the team undertaking a similar role but requiring 2-3 years' postgraduate experience along with your engineering degree.

Process Development Chemist — c£25-30k

We're seeking a self-motivated, graduate chemist to project manage the incremental development of existing products, processes and raw materials – along with the introduction of new products and 'step out' developments – all within a high value, complex manufacturing process. Experience within the manufacturing environment is preferred with an understanding of catalyst science.

Maintenance Planner — c£30-35k

This newly created role will see you take responsibility for establishing, maintaining, planning and optimising engineering routines and resources - as well as co-ordinating site shutdowns, in line with both business and H&S standards. Your proven engineering/manufacturing experience will be matched by strong organisational ability. An engineering based HNC/HND is a minimum requirement, as is sound maintenance scheduling systems and numerical ability.

Mechanical Maintenance Technician — c£26k

This role is suited to a time-served mechanical technician with broad experience of mechanical maintenance activities, including hydraulics/pneumatics, various pump types and small project/installation work. A related ONC/HNC qualification is a minimum. A positive attitude, good communication skills and ability to evaluate relevant data are all key attributes.

Instruments/Electrical Technician — c£21k

Here you'll be undertaking routine and preventative I/E maintenance activities and inspections to meet both business and legal requirements, including trip and alarm testing. Related experience, a relevant qualification to minimum NVQ level 3, along with good PC, written and communication skills are all a must.
